

Wisconsin Committee on Occupational Safety & Health

WISCOOSH

www.wiscosh.org | www.facebook.com/WisCOSH | www.twitter.com/WisCOSH

April 28th, 2019

Every year on April 28th workers around the world gather together to commemorate those workers that never made it home at the end of their shift as well as those lost due to workplace exposures and incidents. Since OSHA first opened its doors on April 28, 1970 thousands of workers lives have been saved. Unfortunately every year there are still thousands of workers known to be killed on the job or that die prematurely due to workplace exposures to hazardous chemicals or environments.

Join WisCOSH, the Milwaukee Area Labor Council, the Waukesha County Labor Council and workers when we gather on Sunday, April 28th in Milwaukee to remember those Wisconsin workers that never made it home last year to their family and friends.

Workers' Memorial Day 2019

Fight Like Hell for the Living

1:00 – 2:15pm

WisCOSH will host a fundraiser meal at the American Postal Workers Union Hall at 417 N. 3rd St., Milwaukee. Profits from the meal are split between a Zeidler Union Square Park maintenance fund and WisCOSH. The cost of the meal is $5/plate with reservation or $6.50 at the door. Each plate consists of either a bratwurst or two hot dogs, potato salad, relish tray and a variety of homemade desserts. An assortment of beverages will be available. Vegetarian meal will be available with prior notice.

Updates can be found at <https://tinyurl.com/y6fy9qh7>.

Mourn the Dead

2:30pm

WisCOSH, Milwaukee and Waukesha Labor Councils will gather at Zeidler Union Square Park (301 W. Michigan St., Milwaukee) to commemorate those fallen workers that never made it home to their family, friends and pets. We will be joined by a number of speakers.

Updates can be found at <https://tinyurl.com/yye55dbx>.

There will be a candlelight procession to the park from the APWU hall.